

Sound like yourself, everywhere your audience looks.

Eve learns how you think, then turns one short conversation into a steady stream of content that reads like you wrote it. We run everything, and nothing goes out without your approval.

You bring the thinking. We handle the rest.

What is Eve?

Eve is an AI-native platform that turns your thinking into publish-ready content. It learns your voice and your business, then turns a short conversation into polished drafts in minutes. The best of AI speed with expert human judgment, so everything sounds like you.

How it works

Key features

What makes it a system, not a chatbot

An hour per week. Content every day.

We run it. You approve. It goes everywhere.

Editorial coaching

Sharpens weak angles, so what reaches you is strong.

Approvals built in

Nothing goes out without your sign-off.

Dynamic calendar

A living plan we keep current for you.

Persistent voice model

Your voice, sharper the more we run it.

Key benefits

- It sounds like you, not AI
No slop. Drafts land in your voice from the start.
- Your reputation is protected
The voice, content, and IP stay authentically yours.
- All the presence, a fraction of the time
Eve coaches your team to get it right before you see it. Nothing publishes without your approval.

How we work together

- We run it
Strategy, calendar, drafting. You skip the busywork.
- You approve
Full control. Nothing goes out without your sign-off.
- Your business scales
Steady presence. It builds week over week, across every channel.
