TINA'S PROMPT "We got dwell time down from 47 min to 12 at the Memphis yard this year. Write a LinkedIn post about it."

Same prompt.

GENERIC AI · SAME PROMPT

🚀 Thrilled to share some exciting news from the Meridian Freight team!

Over the past year we reduced average dwell time at our Memphis facility from 47 minutes to just 12, a 74% improvement. In today's fast-paced logistics landscape, efficiency isn't just a goal, it's a competitive advantage. Huge thanks to our incredible team for making it happen!

EVE · SAME PROMPT

Our unit economics is revenue per truck per day, with dwell time being the part of the day nobody pays for. Our average dwell time was 47 minutes when we started measuring. It's 12 now, a 74% improvement.

Nobody throws a party for a 35 minute time savings. But multiply it by 40 trucks and 250 days, that's 5,800 hours. Plus our drivers got home earlier, and the operators on the dock crew knew where every minute went. Suddenly 35 minutes doesn't seem so small.
